

Petri Coloring Sheet

The Lab Explorers are Clinical Laboratory Scientists. A clinical laboratory is where blood and other liquids that come from the body are tested. A scientist studies things in a laboratory.

Hi, my name is Petri. I am an agar plate that is also called a Petri dish. An agar plate is where microbiologists (people who study little things) grow germs. I study germs called bacteria that make people sick and figure out what medicine will kill the germs. Color me brown.
